Subject:	Fwd: Bloomberg: Glencore Aims for Rio Tinto Deal to Create $160 Billion Miner, World's Largest

Gary Hi
I've talked to Farkash. He's arranging to be in Zurich on Oct 19 ,Monday around noon or even earlier. I'll join around 330pm and we can sit until 930pm.
You need to think of a place to meet in.
Let me know and I'll pass it to Farkash.
I've heard him in a sigh of relief when I called. He told me he stands a heavy pressure from the U.S. Group to approve a new investor they've brought and he maneuvers to avoid decision.
Looking forward.
Best

Mania Grandiosa and personal interest for sure - and I know for a fact that IG is no genius - but no fool either - really need to sleep over it, I argued for weeks in various discussions that this doesn't make sense and I'm stunned. But I will know more tomorrow.
